 Audio Report, Archives and more at www.cassgram.com
 Today: rain, sleet and snow, wind 25 to 40 mph with gusts to 55, temperatures around 33. Tonight: blowing snow early, low 22. Thursday: sunny, high 42. Yesterday's high: 75/Plattsmouth airport. This morning's low: 37 (6am). Sunset today is at 7:35pm. Sunrise Thursday is at 7:26am.

COUNTY BOARD APPROVES SURVEY PERMIT for the City of Lincoln water project – The Cass County Board of Commissioners approved a right-of-way occupancy request in a 5-0 vote. The request came from Elizabeth Elliott, Director of Lincoln Transportation and Utilities, for a survey permit related to Lincoln's second water source project. Lincoln city officials are working to secure an additional water supply, with plans for a well field near the Missouri River and a treatment plant nearby. From there, a 48-inch to 60-inch pipeline would transport clean drinking water back west to Lincoln and potentially serve other communities in Cass County too. Engineer Ben Day of Olsson explained that survey control points will be installed along the ROW to establish markers for the topographic survey. These small, flush-to-ground markers will be permanent and available for use by other governmental and private agencies. Once installed, the next steps will be contacting property owners and finalizing the pipeline route. Both potential well field sites are in Cass County, with one extending just south into Otoe County. County board members were told that with either route, the treatment plant and supply lines would be in Cass County.

Maps depict one possible wellfield area—the one looked as at most preferred at this time, according to Day—east of where Kenosha Road ends. The second area is on the south boundary line of Cass County. The potential supply line routes run between Union and Murray. County roads/streets listed on the permit are Hobscheidt, Kenosha, McKelvie and Adams.

In Lincoln, the city is in the final planning stages for a northeast water main project along 98th Street, which will eventually connect to this Missouri River source. An open house was held in Lincoln to inform residents about the work, which will impact traffic on 98th Street, Holdrege Street, and Alvo Road, as well as sidewalks near the Vine Street reservoir.

Assistant Lincoln City Engineer Steve Owen said the growing city needs a redundant water source for emergencies. "If you think back to 2019 when we had the floods, our Platte River water source was very much impacted," Owen told KOLN-TV News. "Having another source of water to draw from during extreme weather events is of great benefit for the City of Lincoln."

THE NEBRASKA PREMIER of "Hollywood, Nebraska" at the Loft Community Theatre - Performances are March 21, 22, 23, 27, 28, 29, & 30. "Two forty-something actresses have returned to their dying hometown in the Great Plains of Nebraska. TV star Jane is in from Los Angeles to check on her ailing mother. Stage actress Andrea is back from New York City to bury her father. Can childhood friends overcome past hurts to find hope in a place they left behind..."
 It's suggested PG-13.

GROUNDBREAKING EVENT Thursday (3/20) for a recreation complex just a few miles from Cass County that will offer employment opportunities locally - The Bellevue Bay Indoor Water Park is "set to be the fourth-largest indoor water park in the country, this monumental project represents a transformative step forward for the region," said a City of Bellevue news release. The release adds, the park "will serve as a major economic catalyst for the area, bringing hundreds of new jobs to Nebraska. From construction and operations to hospitality and retail, the project is expected to stimulate local employment and create new business opportunities for residents and entrepreneurs alike.

"This is more than just a water park—it's a symbol of growth, opportunity, and the bright future ahead for Bellevue," said Mayor Rusty Hike. It's scheduled to open its doors by 2027.

PUBLIC INFORMATION MEETING concerning the major highway route at Plattsmouth – The topic: "What do you want Highway 75 to be like in the future?" It is 4:30pm to 6:30pm Monday (3/24) at Plattsmouth Public Library. "Learn more – Share your ideas – Discover possibilities"

ONE OF THE RESCUE CALLS Tuesday was for a 32-year-old male with an accidental gunshot wound to the leg that happened hours earlier – The call was to a location on Main Street in Alvo. Sheriff deputies, NSP, Eagle rescue and county medics responded. A non-emergency hospital transport was made.

A FUNERAL SERVICE FOR RUTH LORENCE HOWELL, age 100, of Bellevue and most recently Plattsmouth, will be at 11:30am Friday (3/21) at Korisko Larkin Staskiewicz Funeral Home in Omaha. Visitation will be 10 to 11:30am. (The full obituary and picture are at www.cassgram.com, click on *.)
